

Engage your customers

You work hard to gain new customers, make sure they're taken care of. Our swag platform can help.

Engage and empower your customers with swag

Whether you're launching new products or sending thanks with a gift, we make it easy to distribute merch to your biggest fans. We even allow your customers to choose their gifts, with redemption pages for prepaid codes. Send some thanks today.

Welcome Kit

Welcome your people with a great kit, without all the work. Let's plan a kit with amazing items, then you relax and let us handle all the logistics of building and distributing. No more chaotic swag closet.

Thank You Gift

Without your top clients, where would you be? Send thanks with thoughtful and custom kits, delivered right to the door of your biggest fans. Make a lasting impact without lifting a finger.

Certification Milestones

Give a little more incentive to the clients who take the time to master your product. Send automatic gifts each time a user reaches a new level of certification on your platform or service.

Turn users into advocates

Each year, Digital Ocean sends 50,000 t-shirts across the world without ever touching a package. Hacktoberfest rewards their loyal fans who make contributions to open source coding. After reaching certain milestones, customers are eligible for a free swag bag, complete with stickers and a t-shirt in their size. From Bangalore to Belgium and back, Digital Ocean leaned on our redemption platform to manage and ship all orders.

Customer engagement tools for your team

With more events going virtual, create a connection and sense of belonging by sending physical merch that commemorates the event and thanks them for attending.

New Client Onboarding

Just landed a great deal? Let your new clients to choose from swag that gets them even more excited about your product.

Celebrations

Give your channel partners and distributors access to swag. Offer discounted pricing or gift certificates to keep your partners accurately representing your brand.

Customer Success Portal

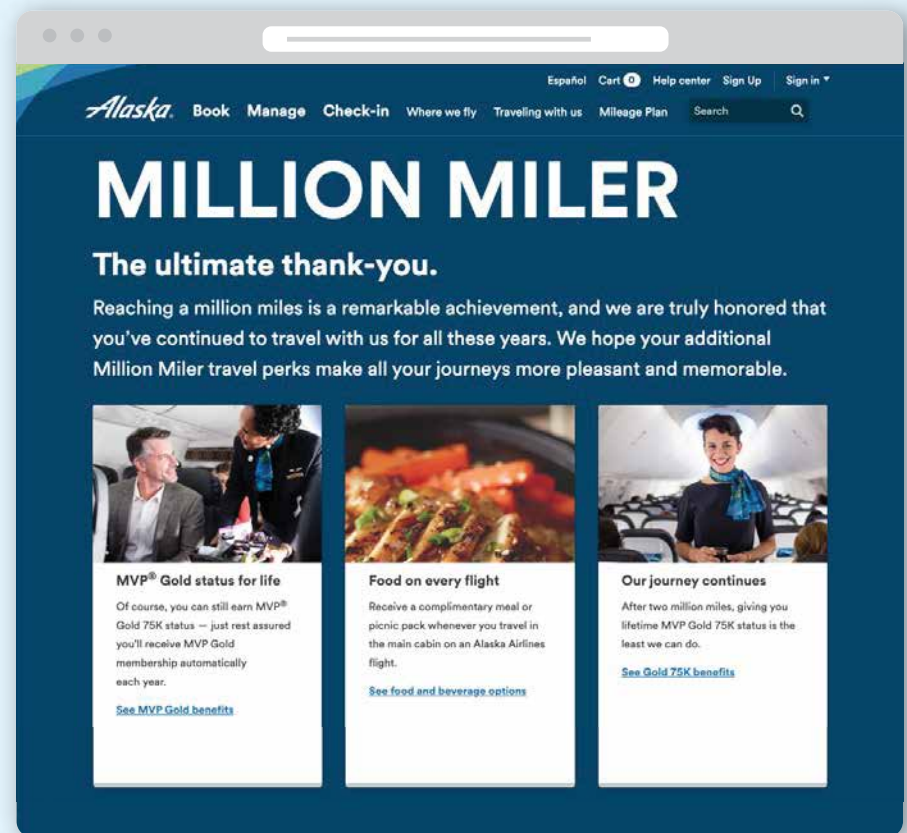

Your best customers are also the best people to advocate for your product – provide free or discounted swag so they can spread the good word.

REDEMPTION PAGE

Let your people redeem gifts Let us handle the logistics

We've created a clean and customizable ordering page that allows your people to view and choose what they want. It's simple, we work together to create compelling merch, then we generate a list of redemption codes that you can share with your employees. Your people pick what they want and we ship it out the next day. Relax and let us handle the heavy lifting.

Manage it all from one platform

Enterprise Level Control

User accounts, budgets, locations, approvals... it's all there to adjust as you see fit.

Vertically Integrated

We design, produce, warehouse and fulfill the product ourselves. True vertical integration, you won't find this anywhere else.

Ease of use

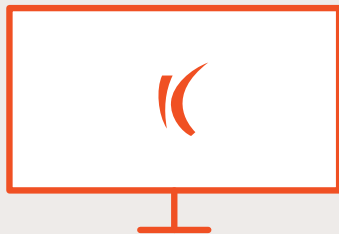

Our platform is built with you (and your user) in mind. It's flexible, scalable and was designed specifically for swag.

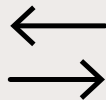

A managed service

Unlike the self service options out there, we're here to actually help you along the way. Plus we have customer support if you need that too.

Inventory Management

Physical Inventory

One inventory set, unlimited storefronts

All of our stores and portals are tied together with a single inventory management system that feeds the listings on each portal. You choose access levels, products displayed and pricing for each portal.

Standard with the Kotis Platform:

- Unlimited Portals
- No long term contract
- Full control over the inventory
