

How Vanguard Clinical Harnesses Medrio CDMS/EDC

Unleashing efficiency to drive faster results for CROs

CHALLENGE

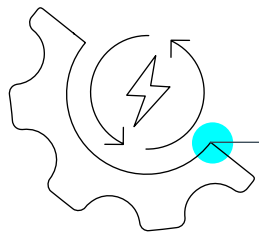

Vanguard Clinical, a CRO with 20+ years of experience, had to act fast to find a supportive CDMS/EDC partner to replace a client's existing system.

To be a successful CRO, it is important to be responsive to the needs of sponsors. Ultimately, Vanguard Clinical was looking for a partner with robust functionality and supportive customer service that could deliver high-quality results quickly and efficiently.

SOLUTION

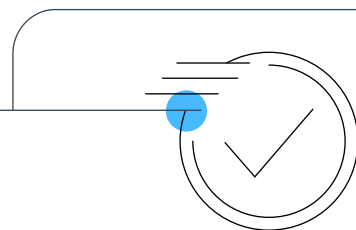

Five weeks before the First Patient First Visit, Vanguard Clinical recommended Medrio. Within three days, the development environment was deployed and training was scheduled.

Medrio created more efficient processes, accelerating timelines with streamlined study builds and quick mid-study updates while ensuring consistent results.

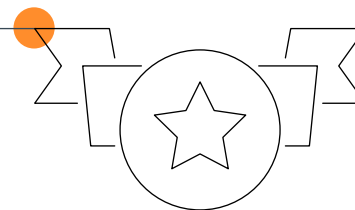

Efficient Operations

Streamlining operations through user-friendly, robust features.

Accelerated Timelines

Enabling in-house study builds and mid-study changes for speed.

Reliable Results

Partnering for consistent results without compromise.

HEADQUARTERS:

METRICS:

"Our relationship with Medrio has been incredibly productive and positive. From the initial database build during a crisis with a legacy vendor, Medrio's quick and effective support showcased their outstanding team. We are grateful for the relationship and anticipate a long and fruitful collaboration ahead."

Tiffany Sepp
President & CEO
Vanguard Clinical

Creating a supportive client environment was made easy through flexible user access controls and real-time data visibility. From statisticians to in-house pharmacovigilance to research site staff, Vanguard Clinical was able to support all their unique users' needs with ease.

Functionality

Global user management and permission-based reporting

Predefined and custom reporting options

Real-time data access for immediate insights

User friendly reporting and data export tools

Learn more about what Medrio can do for you.

Connect with Our Experts

Increased study build and change request efficiencies means Vanguard Clinical can quickly launch and manage client studies with confidence. Without the need for programming, in-house builds enable flexible functionality for both sites and monitors, while supporting easy data management review and database lock.

Functionality

Study builds that don't require coding

Ability to pre-build eCRF libraries with edit checks, ranges, and skip logic

3 tiered environment including build, test, and live

Ability to add images to eCRFs

Change request ownership

Intuitive user interface that supports quick site data entry

Learn more about what Medrio can do for you.

Connect with Our Experts

Swift, effective support began from the start. From a three-day technology deployment to comprehensive training to ongoing responsiveness, Vanguard Clinical can meet tight client deadlines and deliver high-quality results consistently with Medrio.

Support

Quick response times

Effective live and recorded trainings

Hands-on support

Knowledgeable and supportive team members

Learn more about what Medrio can do for you.

Connect with Our Experts