Security & compliance means enterprise-grade protection

Approved and certified

We follow industry best practices and regulatory requirements, including ISO 27001, SOC2 Type II, and SOC3. Plus, we help ensure your infrastructure and services are compliant with GDPR and CCPA standards.

Trusted protection

Protect and manage the intellectual property created or added to our platform. Your data is encrypted in transit with the TLS 1.3 protocol and at rest with AES 256.

Secure access management

Control who can access Miro with enterprise-grade functionality, leveraging advanced identity and administrative capabilities. This includes single sign-on (SSO), two-factor authentication (2FA), domain control, and more.

Scalability to ensure frictionless administration

Enterprise licensing

Scale Miro adoption with no risk and unlimited licenses every quarter. Give users quick access to Miro to collaborate with people in and outside of your team, and even outside your organization.
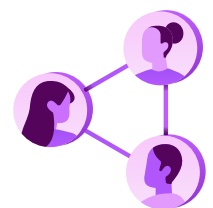

User and license management

Easily manage permissions of hundreds or thousands of users in your plan. The lifecycle of users is in your hands, from within the app and through the SCIM API and integrations.

Centralized collaboration

Bring in all collaboration into one subscription with domain control. Standardize user settings across your entire organization, with centralized settings for sharing, content, and invitations. Control access to major beta features.

Succeed with expert guidance and an ongoing partnership

Onboarding and migration

Experience world-class onboarding and a smooth migration process. Together, we'll plan and configure Miro's enterprise-grade features. Plus, we'll help you securely consolidate all your teams and instances so you can confidently roll out Miro across your organization.

Customer success program

After your onboarding journey is complete, you'll have access to digital resources and learning programs to help you achieve your desired business outcomes. Depending on your needs, we offer success packages with expert guidance to help you hit your goals faster.

End-user enablement

Your organization can build expertise with live training, user-built templates in the Miroverse, support from the Miro Community, and more. Ensure you realize value and increase adoption, helping your organization and teams unlock their innovation potential.
