WE UNDERSTAND FOOD AND BEVERAGE FACILITY NEEDS

Megamation is a trusted solutions provider for food and beverage facilities across North America

DirectLine™ by Megamation™ is the preferred maintenance solution for thousands of food and beverage facilities across North America. Our expertise and extensive modules help businesses boost efficiency while lowering costs.

Streamline Your Operations from the Ground Up

DirectLine brings together the tools food and beverage teams need to support safety standards, reduce downtime, and keep production running reliably. Our platform adapts to your processes and keeps your maintenance teams aligned across every area of your facility.

Food Safety & Compliance

DirectLine supports the safety and quality requirements essential to food and beverage operations. Embed sanitation and compliance questions directly into your workflows, attach required documents to equipment or tasks, and ensure every procedure is completed consistently. Help teams stay audit-ready and aligned with regulatory standards.

Inventory & Barcode Management

Easily manage parts, tools, and consumables across your facilities. Scan barcodes or QR codes to track stock levels and locations. Use min/max rules to automate purchase requisitions and keep critical items available when you need them.

Preventive Maintenance

Build tailored preventive maintenance plans and equipment hierarchies to match how your plant operates. Assign tasks, intervals, and documentation to each asset, ensuring technicians have the exact information they need. Consistent PM routines reduce breakdowns and extend equipment life.

Downtime Tracking & Analysis

Track events, analyze trends, and use real-time data to prevent costly interruptions to production. DirectLine provides clear visibility into equipment performance so you can understand why downtime happens and take corrective action quickly.

“Megamation has provided timely and professional support for our application over many years now. Your organization’s willingness to customize our application for our specific needs has been refreshing. Thank you for your continued support and innovation.”

“We converted all of our data and transaction history from our 15-year-old legacy CMMS over to DirectLine. This gave us the ability to customize things a bit to fit our particular needs, and to easily create custom report templates and export the reports into Excel.”
