Solving mission-critical problems in the tools used every day

Our partner integrations help technical workers stay within the tools they use and rely on every day to easily and quickly find answers to solve problems and get back to work faster.

How it works

Imagine tapping into your collective company knowledge within Slack without disrupting a team member or wasting time sifting through unrelated threads.

The Slack integration with Stack Overflow for Teams empowers team members to find information without leaving their current workstreams.

Intelligent Search

We power our search with tags and keywords so team members can find answers that are most relevant to their question.

Up-to-date information

Answers have prominent timestamps and are easily editable so team members can trust that the answers they find are the most up to date and accurate.

Integrated workflows

All answers live in one central source of knowledge and that feeds into developers' existing workflows, like Slack. Developers don't have to break their stride to search multiple sources or tools for an answer.
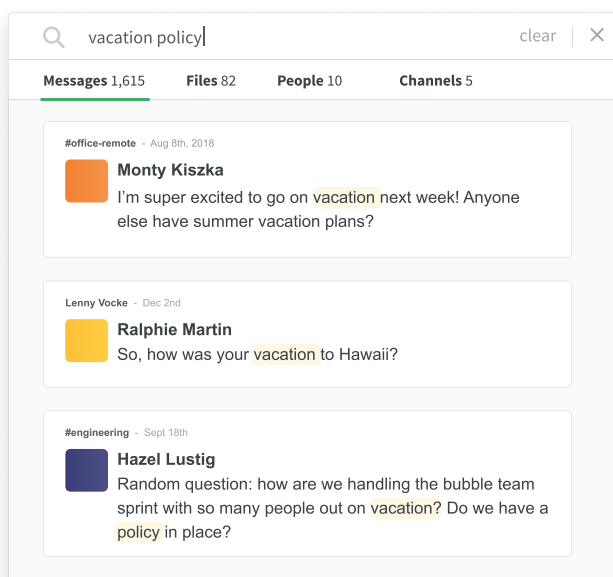

Easily deploy across your organizaiton

Administration and deployment of our app is made easy with Slack's Org-Wide App Installs feature.
